

Safer Shopping and Payments

By: Joseph Gonzalez

Best For	Online shopping, banking, delivery messages, and payment apps
Use	Read before buying from a new store or responding to a delivery text.
Inside	Fake stores, payment pressure, delivery scams, and safer checkout habits.

For educational use. Share with family members, caregivers, teachers, and community groups. The goal is calm action, not fear.

Safer Shopping and Payments

Use this guide as a calm checklist. Read one section, take one action, and come back later for the next step.

The main idea

Most payment scams create urgency. A calm thirty second pause can save money and stress.

Watch for these patterns

- A store price is much lower than everywhere else.
- A delivery text asks you to pay a small fee through a link.
- A seller asks you to leave the official platform.
- Someone demands gift cards, wire transfer, or crypto.
- The website address looks strange.

Safer payment habits

- Use trusted stores and official apps.
- Use credit cards or protected payment methods when possible.
- Turn on purchase alerts.
- Check statements weekly.
- Do not save cards on websites you do not trust.

Español

La mayoría de las estafas de pago crean urgencia. Una pausa tranquila de treinta segundos puede ahorrar dinero y estrés.

- Cuidado con precios demasiado bajos.
- No pagues cargos de entrega desde enlaces raros.
- No salgas de la plataforma oficial por presión del vendedor.
- No pagues con tarjetas de regalo si alguien lo exige.
- Activa alertas de compra.

Reminder: Stop, Check, Ask. If something feels urgent, strange, or scary, slow down and verify with a trusted source.